

Used To Be

Stabilo

I used to be an angel, I used to talk to God
I used to believe in miracles, a miracle went wrong
I used to be a space boy, ya a race boy
I used to be on fire
Now you tell me your not worth it, I'll tell you your a liar
Your a liar, your a liar

But I am free, I stood upon the edge and looked over
And thats me, that pretty face so out of place,
That broken smile somehow worthwhile
Add it up and then we're away

But I wanna hear you laugh, I wanna see you cry
I wanna wipe the tears that fall from your eyes
I saw you last night, you said you'd be there today
One minute your gone, the next you will stay

I'm not proud of most of my friends,
Oh there just like me,
But I don't blame them for my actions,
And we're closer than the sea, then we'll see, ya we'll see

But I am free, I stood upon the edge and looked over
And thats me, that pretty face so out of place,
That broken smile somehow worthwhile
You say that your gone but you wait for me,
Ya you me, I'm leavin, but you wait for me
And you know that I'll wish you away

But I wanna hear you laugh, I wanna see you cry
I wanna wipe the tears that fall from your eyes
I saw you last night, you said you'd be there today
One minute your gone, the next you will stay

I woke up this morning and I said to myself,
How you gonna change the world if your stuck upon the shelf?
Its the big things I remember, the little things I forgot
But if you add it all up, that's a hell of alot

But I wanna hear you laugh, I wanna see you cry
I wanna wipe the tears that fall from your eyes
I saw you last night, you said you'd be there today
One minute your gone, the next you will stay
