

Missing You

Starkid

Holden: I can't remember dad, and I can't remember mum
And aunts and uncles aren't quite the same
But I had him and life seem fair
Yes I had him, and he was there

To give me strength, show concern
Ask for nothing in return
Say hello, talk me through
Do the things that fathers should do

And I'm missing you
I'm just missing you

Rosenthal: There it is, he's gone and he's hung me out to dry
The joy he said he felt, well, I guess it was a lie
But when I had him, my life was fine
When I had him, he was mine
He'd share his thoughts, be a friend
Stick with me until the end
Watch a movie, roller skate
Fill the world with fear and hate

And I'm missing you
I'm just missing you

Rosenthal and Holden: Now I'm all alone, now your gone for good
Now I'm stuck here wishing I understood

Holden: You gave me hope when my spells weren't right,
Rosenthal: You gave me someone to hold everynight

Rosenthal: And I'm missing you (Holden: I'm just missing you)
Rosenthal: I'm just missing you (Holden: I'm just missing you)
