

Is it the way you call my name
That keeps me running right back to you
Or maybe just your ways are so unpredictable
I never know what you're going through
Baby it's ok baby it's ok baby it's ok baby it's ok

We break up to make then break up again
I wake up without you then feel like damn
My angel she pray for me daily for sake you while I get it in
I'm out you all by my lonely
She know I hate making new friends
N*gga's be fake they pretend smiling
Really be snakes in the end I'm grinding
Yeah I play for the win
Can't lie my patience getting thin
Thankful my paper getting thicker
Can't go nowhere without taking some pictures
Can go nowhere without taking my pistol
Maybe I'm crazy
Play me too close and maybe suspicious

Is it the way you call my name
That keeps me running right back to you
Or maybe just your ways are so unpredictable
I never know what you're going through
Baby it's ok baby it's ok baby it's ok baby it's ok

It's easy for you to say
I'm leaving you can stay
Even try moving away
Ended up thinking of you today
Any games two can play
I kind of blame you in a way
Ravishing Rick Rude awaken and wait here go Mike in game two in the A
Call it plan B like I want to see you looking for rules to break
Give her the D call it confession call me confused and crazy maybe
I'm on a losing streak
Losing sleep losing weight
2 liters doing two in a day
Overdoing the drank like it soothes the pain
(Baby it's ok)
Someone said my music changed
Even though I can't take it with me
I be needing that dough
Like I'm making biscuits
She keeps saying that it's all gravy
Baby it's okay [x3]
