

All I Have

Stars Go Dim

Help me to be satisfied, apart from all I see
I wanna build my life on the only one I need
So empty my hands of all of my riches
You are worth more than all my successes
You're the only thing I want to hold onto

If all I have is you
If all I have is you
And nothing else but you
I have everything

Let it all fade away, these temporary gains
Cause you're the greatest prize, the one that never fades
So empty my hands of all of my treasures
You are worth more than all my possessions
You're the only thing I want to hold onto

If all I have is you
If all I have is you
And nothing else but you
I have everything

If all I have is you
If all I have is you
And nothing else but you
I have everything

So empty my hands of all of my riches
You are worth more than all my successes
You are worth more, you are worth more
You are everything

So empty my hands of all of my treasures
You are worth more than all my possessions
You are worth more, you are worth more
You are everything
You are worth more, you are worth more
You are everything
You are worth more, you are worth more
You are everything

If all I have is you
If all I have is you
And nothing else but you
I have everything
I have everything
I have everything
