

Love This Girl

Stars Go Dim

She's got her mommy's ambition
Wants to see the world,
Never relied on no one

But she's daddy's little girl
And she stands tall

Somewhere between a sinner
Not quite a saint

She'll make you feel like somebody
She'll take your breath away
But that's not all, no that's not all

She laughs like I wish I could,
She's pretty when she cries,
She can stop me dead with one good look
Just get caught up in those eyes,
She's everything that's beautiful
Everything that's good in this world..

Boy I love this girl

She's the mother to my children
My lover and my friend

She's more than just a person
She's the reason that I live

And I tell her everyday
That I love her..

She laughs like I wish I could,
She's pretty when she cries,
She can stop me dead with one good look
Just get caught up in those eyes,
She's everything that's beautiful
Everything that's good in this world..

And when those little feet come running
Down the stairs, to my side

Scared of what might be hiding
Underneath the bed that night

And when the day comes when my own son takes his own bride and needs my advice,
I'll say..

If she laughs like you wish you could,
She's pretty when she cries,
She can stop you dead with one good look
Just get caught up in her eyes,
She's everything that's beautiful
Everything that's good in this world..

Boy you love that girl,

Boy I love this girl..
