

Thrown Away

Stealing Eden

My time is over
And I'm getting colder
As I seem to slip away
(I slip away)
I'm barely breathing, is my heart still beating
Hold my breath just to make it through

As I lay here dying
Everything will be okay
I will not stop trying
Never thought it would end this way
As I lay here screaming
Everything will be okay
All these years I've thrown away

I fall to pieces from these hopeless reasons
As I hear my own heart break
My own heart break
I'm always wanting just to stop the haunting
From those things you never say

As I lay here dying
Everything will be okay
I will not stop trying
Never thought it would end this way
As I lay here screaming
Everything will be okay
All these years I've thrown away
I've thrown away

As I lay here dying, I will not stop trying
I don't want you to be afraid
As I lay here dying, I will not stop trying
I don't want you to be afraid
Is this the end?

As I lay here dying
Everything will be okay
I will not stop trying
Never thought it would end this way
As I lay here screaming
Everything will be okay
All these years I've thrown away
I've thrown away
