

Daughter of Space

Steam Powered Giraffe

In the life I led in my past
I tried to live by the earth

The cosmos seemed so far away

But I now know
That place is among the stars

Back in time in the depths of space there was a little girl born to the human race
She had fire in her eyes
She was brimming with hyper cosmic ultra vibes

My squad had just deployed
When she came of age and visited our world

She was a
Daughter of space
Oh, Daughter of space

Her laser hair cut through beams of steel
Her claws of energy cracked my canopy
The sonic voice smashed my deflectors into pieces
The cabin depressurized, I hit my escape releases

Daughter of space
Oh, Daughter of space

I floated around for an hour or so
She had wiped out my squad now my oxygen was low
She soared right next to me
Her freckles glowed of cosmic energies

My suit was falling apart but right before I passed out she took me in her energy field
I was spared by the

Daughter of space
Oh, Daughter of space

Her laser hair ripped moons in two
Her claws grasped a comet and we flew
Her sonic voice lulled me to sleep with deep conversation
I've never met a human born from the constellations

Daughter of space
Oh, Daughter of space

Daughter of space
Oh, Daughter of space

Daughter of space
Oh, Daughter of space

I've been taken by the Daughter of Space
I may never see Earth again.
