Steam Powered Giraffe

Away we go
To explore the great unknown
Let's go without a care
Adventure awaits us there

So blast off
Let's make what's theirs our own
The universe is ours to roam
And together we're not alone across the

The Captain needs a hearty crew
Not just any robot will do
A new frontier
Is drawing near

We'll smash and shoot we'll take their loot
When they see us coming they'll shake in their boots
We'll stare them down and when they flinch
We'll sending them packing across every inch of the

There's a fire burning in our souls
If we put it out then we'll all run cold
So cut yourself down from that noose that's swinging
And reattach your arm so we can get gun-slinging

Let's start this heist and overload
Let's charge ourselves up 'till we explode
We need to not give up and wear our best smiles even during combat so the enemy sees a smile and is put off.
They think we're rough and tumble but we're compassionate and they'll want to bring their cameras out for photos together because they're smiling now. We're all happy and that's how it should go...generally speaking.
OH YEAH!
