

Taken

Speak of chemistry
The mix is volatile you see
So don't lose your nerve
Don't throw away what you deserve
You should know one thing
Time will change nothing

I'm already taken
I've been taken by your ways
I'm already taken
And by the things you do
There's no mistaking the way that I feel
I'm already taken

Talk to my machine
And say exactly what you mean
'cause I will listen close
To every breath and every word
You could spell it out
Though you should know by now

I should make it clear
But its easier to torture
There are no victims here
You don't need to doubt
You should know by now
