

All In How Much We Give

Stephanie Mills

Love is no fairy tale but that isn't still to say it knows how to teach us well it helps us find our way.

As much as we sacrifice is only as much as we can gain forgiving not once but twice and then again and again

It isn't about how much we can get it isn't remembering what love would forget, I've found the secret of learning to live it's all in how much we give.

Sometimes the rain pours down flooding across the land, sometimes the sun shines bright warming our hearts again
I'll be here by your said through every season's change.

It isn't about how much we can get
it isn't remembering what love would forget
it's all in how much we give(3x).

We can't see the days ahead or the unsuspecting nights, when the road is hard to find love will be our light!

It isn't about how much we can get it isn't remembering what love would forget I've found the secret of learning to live it's all in how much we give(3x).
