Grey to Green

Stephen Stills

Certain my heart too much impaired My life was fallin' into disrepair I was beginning to despair Of finding love at all

No one gave me a second look Fewer still knew of a good book She said "I would if I didn't Have to work so hard"

And her eyes turn green When she's feelin' love When she's feelin' bad they Turn blue

They're hazel
When she works
Until she sees
That my love can change her
Grey eyes back to green for me

Told me I caught her at her worst Saw the confusion and the hurt She felt that she'd been livin' With this curse for far too long

But in the twinkling of an eye Something between us laughed and cried As we began to see Indeed together we could fly
