

Something Special

Steve Miller Band

Say that you love me a little bit
Say that I do something special
I don't want no sympathy
But you mean the world to me
Say that you need me and let me know
Say that I do something special

It wouldn't take that much of your precious time
But I need a little love to carry on
A busy life is no excuse
For leaving me alone
I hope you know what you lost
When it's gone

Say that you love me a little bit
Say that I do something special
I don't want no sympathy
But you mean the world to me
Say that you need me and let me know
Say that I do something special

Remember how we used to love and carry on
And how I used to dance you across the floor
The way it was compared to now
Is tearin' me apart
We never say I love you anymore

Say that you love me a little bit
Say that I do something special
Something special
Something special
Something special
