

Every Girl

Steve Moakler

Not every band can sing a song you wanna sing along to
Not every house is one you wanna head back home to
Not every sure thing gets worked out
Not every good things hangs around
Not every goodbye hurts like you
What's a man gotta do?

Danced with every girl
In this place tonight
Made a move on moving on
Ain't like I didn't try
I bought all the drinks and played the part
I didn't think it could be this hard
I made all the rounds
And all I've found out
Is you're not every girl
You're not every girl
Oh yeah

Not every memory makes you laugh and cry at the same time
Not every mistake ya ever made will keep you up at night
All I'm saying is
I'm running out of way to run away from where I'm really at these days
Can't take two steps forward without taking three more looking back

Danced with every girl
In this place tonight
Made a move on moving on
Ain't like I didn't try
I bought all the drinks and played the part
I didn't think it could be this hard
I made all the rounds
And all I've found out
Is you're not every girl
You're not every girl
No, no

Not every night sky's full of stars
Not every [?]
Breaks your heart, wrecks your world
Then again

You're not every girl
You're not every girl, oh

Danced with every girl
In this place tonight
Made a move on moving on
Ain't like I didn't try
I bought all the drinks and played the part
I didn't think it could be this hard
And all I've found out
You're not every girl, no

You got every girl beat by a mile

[?] haven't seen you smile
