

Better Luck Next Time

Stiltskin

A lonely ghost's holding me
Let me out
Let me die slowly
I hide away totally alone
Don't come around here to see what's going on
I know. I am a stranger
Everywhere I look
The pictures remaining the same
I'd crawl a high wire
Just to escape with
Bits and pieces of me
It's no way to live, I'm wasted here

In this town everything stays the same
Let's get the fuck out of here
In this life, you're too predictable
You're boring the ass off me
Strong words from such a small mind
Just goes to show
Should be leaving the past behind
In this town everything stays the same
Better luck next time

Small town politics, it's all around
The best idea is what I have in mind
Words with meaning, from the soul
I sit around a lot and fool around too much
I'm glad I'm alive I wish I was sane
Whatever sane is?
It's 6 o'clock and I'm still here
But not for long
It's no way to live
I'm wasted here

In this town everything stays the same
Let's get the fuck out of here
In this life, you're too predictable
You're boring the ass of me
Strong words from such a small mind
Just goes to show
Should be leaving the past behind
In this town everything stays the same
Better luck next time

God alone knows God alone knows
Feel what feel from my head to my toes
God alone knows God alone knows
He knows you know

In this town everything stays the same
Let's get the fuck out of here
In this life, you're too predictable
You're boring the ass of me
Strong words from such a small mind
Just goes to show
Should be leaving the past behind
In this town everything stays the same

Better luck next time

With this lie nobody takes the blame
Let's get the fuck out of here
In my head-you're all I can ever hear
You're draining my energy
Small words lust to kill time
You never know if they're working you from behind
In this town everything stays the same
Better luck next time
I wish you luck next time
