Better Luck Next Time

A lonely ghost□s holding me Let me out Let me die slowly I hide away totally alone Don□t come around here to see what□s going on I know. I am a stranger Everywhere I look The pictures remaining the same I□d crawl a high wire Just to escape with Bits and pieces of me It□s no way to live, I□m wasted here

In this town everything stays the same LetUs get the fuck out of here In this life, youDre too predictable YouDre boring the ass off me Strong words from such a small mind Just goes to show Should be leaving the past behind In this town everything stays the same Better luck next time

Small town politics, itDs all around The best idea is what I have in mind Words with meaning, from the soul I sit around a lot and fool around too much IDm glad IDm alive I wish I was sane Whatever sane is? ItDs 6 oDclock and IDm still here But not for long ItDs no way to live IDm wasted here

In this town everything stays the same Let□s get the fuck out of here In this life, you□re too predictable You□re boring the ass of me Strong words from such a small mind Just goes to show Should be leaving the past behind In this town everything stays the same Better luck next time

God alone knows God alone knows Feel what feel from my head to my toes God alone knows God alone knows He knows you know

In this town everything stays the same LetUs get the fuck out of here In this life, youDre too predictable YouDre boring the ass of me Strong words from such a small mind Just goes to show Should be leaving the past behind In this town everything stays the same

With this lie nobody takes the blame LetDs get the fuck out of here In my head-youDre all I can ever hear YouDre draining my energy Small words lust to kill time You never know if theyDre working you from behind In this town everything stays the same Better luck next time I wish you luck next time
