

I Should Have Told You

Stone Fury

Up till dawn Thinking 'bout last night
Up till dawn Thinking 'bout last night
Morning come
Just don't feel so right

I was wrong
By not telling you
Should have said
What I wanted to

Must have been blind
As I looked all around
Head was too big
And my feet off the ground
As I look back on what I should have done
I never would let you leave again

I should have told you
I wanna hold on you
I should have told you

Since you gone
It's an empty dream
What I have done
Makes me want to scream

Tell me where are, where are, where are you
I do miss you so much
It's killing me, this reality

Morning come
Just don't feel so right

I was wrong
By not telling you
Should have said
What I wanted to

Must have been blind
As I looked all around
Head was too big
And my feet off the ground
As I look back on what I should have done
I never would let you leave again

I should have told you
I wanna hold on you
I should have told you

Since you gone
It's an empty dream
What I have done
Makes me want to scream

Tell me where are, where are, where are you
I do miss you so much
It's killing me, this reality