

Grieving In My Heart

Stonewall Jackson

In my heart the tears are falling in my dreams I'm always calling

For your love but you keep stalling now there's grieving in my heart

Oh I feel so forsaken and this lonely heart keeps aching

And I guess I'll go on waiting with this grieving in my heart

Cause I know that I still love you and I place no one above you

And I'm always thinking of you but there's grieving in my heart

Why did you even take me then so suddenly forsake me

Now you act just like you hate me left grieving in heart

Guess I can hardly meet you but I guess I'll have to take you

I need you leave and break you with grieving in my heart

Oh we could start all over if you just come back tomorrow

There'll be no pain and sorrow and grieving in my heart
