Swallow the Knife

Story of the Year

So our open wounds will bleed
Until our veins run dry
Now we have to take this thorn
And tear it from our side
Agitated at the fault line
Still agreed to disagree
Your connected to the heart
But tonight we'll set you free

So swallow the knife
Carve the way for your pride
Now our hands are tied
The problems lie within
So we pray for night
To start over again

Even now as i write this down All pretensions disappear Now our impulses will bite At the ankles of our fear

So swallow the knife
Carve the way for your pride
Now our hands are tied
The problems lie within
So we pray for night
To start over again

Now our hands are tied The problems lie within So we pray for night To start over again

Words are spoken Words are broken down

So lets make this night be our best mistake So lets take the time to wipe the blood away Now our hands are tied And our world is caving in

Now our hands are tied The problems lie within So we pray for night To start over again

Now our hands are tied And the problems lie within Words are spoken Words are broken Broken Down
