

For Now

Stretch Arm Strong

Don't you know you are my everything
And don't you know you make my heart sing
You've turned my world inside out
Now i know what life is about
And it's you i can't live without
You say for now just let me be
You say for now i will be beat
You cry inside and you die inside
I stand by and watch it all go by
I hope for you
And i'll wait until you smile and you make my heart stand still
But, the wait is long
Will it ever end?
The pain and suffering of my best friend
You destroy yourself by a single thought
Spiraling downward now you've been caught
You come up for air
And then you'll see how much you're loved
And how sweet life can be
Don't you know you are my everything
And don't you know you make my heart sing
You've turned my world inside out
Now i know what life's about
And it's you i can't live without
But, i'll try to just get by for now
And i'll walk on by for now
