Believe What You're Saying

Sugar

This is where the line is
That I've drawn across the sand
And this is where my heart aches
Unaware and in my hand

This is where it's gone
This is where the heartache's going on
I can go it alone

Oh I can't believe what you're saying
Oh I've got to leave for you're sailing on and on
I can't repeat what it's all about is wrong
I can't believe what you're saying

This is where how the time goes
In an ordinary town
And this is how it all ends up
When you run the whole thing down

And this is how it's gone
This is how it's already gone and I know
You keep going along

Oh I can't believe what you're saying
Oh I've got to leave for you're sailing on and on
I can't repeat what it's all about is wrong
I can't believe

Oh I can't believe what you're saying
Oh I've got to leave for you're sailing on and on
I can't repeat what it's all about is wrong
I can't believe what you're saying

What you're saying
Oh I can't believe what you're saying
Oh I can't believe what you're saying
