

Endless War

Suicidal Angels

I live inside your deepest fear
When time comes be sure I will be near
I live inside your fearful thought
The one who serves the drink of your last call

Beneath you earth is shaking what's left for you to pray
All hopes, all dreams, all agonies gone for good to stray
Do you live in pleasure or do you live on knees
Desperation, my appetite to please

Ignore
What for
I choose an endless war
I stand or fall
I fight
I choose an endless war

So here I come riding the pale horse of death
While you think I'm sleeping, you feel my darkest breath
And if you seek survival, you will need to struggle
To keep your head where it belongs, it is some kind of trouble

Ignore
What for
I choose an endless war
I stand or fall
I fight
I choose an endless war

Do you think you're strong enough to stand on your own feet
Pathetic do you search one single seed to feed
But what if all you see, you feel, is simple an illusion
Staring at the mirror, braindead confusion

Feel the flames roaring, burning and destroying
Every single sign of human life
This battle never ended, no fight was for granted
But through this rain fire I survived

Ignore
What for
I choose an endless war
I stand or fall
I fight
I choose an endless war
