

White Wizard

Suicidal Angels

Across the borders of an empty life
You met the bottom line
Dove into obedience it's not controlled by mind
Sleepless nights and days of fear
An endless fire burns
Through a disguise of happiness
The end now makes sense

Down on the floor, right on the wall even beneath the ground
Attempt to hide from all the pain silence sounds so loud
Blurry brain and empty eyes nothing can be clear
You hear the voice inside your soul
Welcome, he's near

The white wizard
Beware the white wizard

Living in the truth of lies, no walls to keep you in Prison is the mind, slowly demised, temptation and desire freak within
Watching life passing by, like trapped inside a trench
Bombs of habit, blow inner self, raging against

High hopes, no return, this is a bitter end
Relentless, irrelevant, pain when you lay bend
A week of shadows, a shadowed day, climbing on a thread
Coming back, nightmare ends, despise the undead

Back and forth from illusion to reality
Can't define any pieces of mortality
No more hope no more dope to face the seeds of death
Light fades life shades behold your final breath
