

My Mind Is A Birdcage

Suis La Lune

i keep begging you to see.
why won't you ever listen?
you have got me into this,
you will show me the way out...out of this.

as you say there's nowhere i can go.
as you say there's no-one i can trust.
as you say we're all alone out there.
as you say we can never...never be clean.

as a shadow, hiding my eyes from the sun,
you walk through the door of trust to never come again.
but you will stay in my memory like a bird in a cage.
you will never be released from my mind.

save me, please.
and it always comes down to this.
wake me up, and open my eyes.
