Signs, what's with those signs? would they explain it to you? s ilent words.

and the words describe what's gone through our heads. feels impossible to think that memories of now will ever fade.

I'm silently whatching your movements as you walk through the room.

i'm watching your eyes moving across the floor and all the dust in my room. this silent is so painful, don't you think

You'd just say i'm having "one of those days" again. but i know i'm not.

can't beleave we even sat on the same train, looking out different windows in silent. we've been trying to i gnore this for so long.

I've really let this gone too far. one of these days i simply will ask you.

didn't know it was up to me all along. is it really? is it so? all this time you could have told me, right? you just shut me o ut with your silence.

I thought you lied. dance, this silent dance of lonlyness. stumble and fall. it's only bitetrness and tears. the daily flood of the eyes. i remember when i thought i forgot about it all, and then how you proved me wrong.

This train is heading nowhere in a speed too high. eventhough we're not at the same place we're still inside. we're still sha ring the same view = each others eyes.
