

Sweet Symphony

Sunrise Avenue

Whatcha gonna do when they come to you and they say you have no one left to look up to?
That can make you feel alone.
Whatcha gonna do when they check you out and they say you have nothing left to show, you know?
It can bring you really low.
You can try to find strength in my arms.

Whatcha gonna do when they smile at you,
but you know they're all faces out of truth, you know?
Don't trust those eyes at all.
And whatcha gonna do when they kick your ass,
there's a tiny chance it might break you in half, you know?
Then they leave you all alone.
You can come to me and breathe out.

I can give you this sweet symphony
and I hope it makes you feel fine.
And it's all that you can get from me,
it will always be by your side.

Whatcha gonna do when the devil finds you alone
with the doubts about the ones you love?
His heart is as cold as a stone.
Whatcha gonna do when the guy above says,
you've been too bad and you need to cool down now?
I think you should hear him out.
You can try to find strength in my arms.

I can give you this sweet symphony
and I hope it makes you feel fine.
And it's all that you can get from me,
it will always be by your side.

You know sometimes I'm, I'm feeling lost just like you and then I need my own sweet symphony.

Whatcha gonna do when it rains on you, when it's cold in the night and you don't seem to find a way out of the walls around you?
Whatcha gonna say when they ask about your plans and about the dreams you have and whatcha gonna do now?
Whatcha gonna do now?
Tell me, whatcha gonna do now?
Tell me, whatcha gonna do now?
Oh whatcha gonna do now?
