

The Breadman

Superchunk

This is exciting, this is fascinating me
I watch you work and you can watch me on my knees
Hand me a knife, hand me a pen, I will sign anything
I pushed ahead to watch this man pull out a diamond ring

You are the breadman
You are the breadman

This is exciting but the wait is killing me
I will pay anything, I'd give my eyes to see

You are the breadman
You are the breadman

You never picked up a guitar in your life
You never picked up a guitar in your life
I see you tell your guests you're sick and I know why
You never picked up a guitar in your life

This is exciting but it's just a fantasy
I hold no barrel to your head, it's you that's on your knees

You are the breadman
You are the breadman
You are the breadman
You are the breadman
