

Still Love

Support Lesbiens

Silence shatters my world you refuse to talk misunderstandings are too real we all can feel them everybody just tries to find love anyway they can and here we are just killing ours is this still love

you dream so little of me my darling keep me in your mind so I'd be around cause there's always a chance that there's no tomorrow you understand I know dream a little more of me and I'll be around patience was never our strong point too many times what I said was not so real can you forgive me everybody gets the chance my dear to follow all their dreams and here we are in the mist of ours lost in this love

you dream so little of me my darling
keep me in your mind so I'd be around
cause there's always a chance that there's no tomorrow
you understand I know
dream a little more of me and I'll be around

save your luscious lips for tomorrow today what can I say grab my hand
take me from this place driving like I hear the sirens every night and day take my hand

take me from this place