

There's a Break in the Road

Susan Tedeschi

Everybody find their own thing
And I guess you think you found yours
Your new thing's supposed to burn so hot
Nothing like it ever before
Like the last year's model when you put me down
You handled me like a used car
And when you misuse the one
That's been so good to you
I don't believe you get far

'Cause there's a break in the road
There's a break in every road
I got mine, you'll get yours
There's a break in every road
You just dog me around, treat me like dirt
You don't care how much I hurt
But there's a break in the road
There's a break in every road

You were the only man who could turn me on
And make a bad girl out of me
You made me do things I never dreamed of
Now you want to set me free
Out in the cold I'm left alone
While you gallivant with your new girl
Down along the lane you travel
Like you ain't got a care in the world

But there's a break in the road
There's a break in every road
I got mine, you'll get yours
There's a break in every road
Riding high with your bad self
It's the women that carry the load
I'm here to tell you, oh Lord
There's break in every road

There's a few things you don't understand
About life and the things you do
Same game you ran on me
Somebody's gonna run it on you
And rain's gonna come, it's gonna pour down hard
Gonna wash away all of my tears
Well, you need a new pair of windshield wipers
'Cause you ain't seeing things too clear

There's a break in the road
There's a break in every road
I got mine, you get yours
There's a break in every road
Oh oh Lord, there's a break in every road
Oh oh, there's a break in every road
