

Something New

Susanna Hoffs

You want something new, something sweet
To rinse away the bitterness of another day
Fading away
You want something new, something bright
To lighten up the shadows of your darkest fears
Hovering near.

You get so lonely lately
Lonely and afraid
Maybe nothing really good will come your way
You want something new, something hot
Flames of passion burning all your bridges down
Don't turn around.

I lie awake and watch you toss and turn
I ask, "What's wrong?", you turn away and say
It's not my concern.

You get so lonely lately
Lonely and afraid
Maybe nothing really good will come your way
You want something new, something new
But there is nothing I can do to make you see
What you mean to me.

Cause you know I love you
And I know that's nothing new
That's nothing new.
