

Invisible Love

Susie Suh

I wake up to the neon rays on your face
I wake up to the love you emanate
Your body's glowing as your aura radiates
All around you

Invisible love
That's what this is
Clear as glass
In front of this bliss

You will always be beautiful and radiant
You will always be more than just human
You are powerful glorious and innocent always
Always

Through the folds of time we travel
Holding out our wings so we can fly
We find the darkness and disintegrate it
We swim in clouds and walk on sunshine

Invisible love
That's what we are
A drop of water
Merging with the stars

We will always be beautiful and radiant
We will always be more than just human
We are powerful glorious and innocent always
Always

We will always be beautiful and radiant
We will always be more than just human
We are powerful glorious and innocent always
Always

We will always be magical magnificent
We will always be invincible and protected
We are sacredness holiness divine and blessed always
Always

We will always be beautiful and radiant
We will always be more than just human
We are powerful glorious and innocent always
Always
