

Through the Sky

Swing Out Sister

Everything's been said and done
What else is there to say
When tomorrow's been and gone
And given in to yesterday
If I'd known before the things that I know now
The world would never let me down
A thousand miles high
Spinning and spiraling through the sky

Waiting for the sun to shine
And brighten up my day
Drifting, floating in and out of time
You came and took my breath away
Now we're flying higher than the highest cloud
And we're never coming down
A thousand miles high
Spinning and spiraling through the sky
High as the moon and the stars above
Out of our minds and in love
