

Challenger (Synthetic Version)

Sybreed

Face down, this the way you taught me to abide Down on my knees, I was just another servile bitch
I realized I was a whore begging for security And such a coward, I'd never have asked to be set free

Explain my why should disregard all the lies and become everyth ing I despise
If I can't find a meaning to this fearful life, i'll become the enemy of mankind

What did you conjecture to arise from the ashes of my broken se lf?
An obedient drone just easy to bind?
I'm but the demon you've devised

Tremble, you bastards, I represent all that you dread It's so futile to think you can still control me I've nothing to lose for you have tainted everything I prized Whatever you try, revenge is mine

[Repeat chorus]

I shall wipe this burden out Victorious I will stand above the mundane shame you've forceful ly trained me in
I'll concede nothing and never forget all your deeds and cruelty Retribution is on the way, turning the war you've started into pure defeat
