

It's A Nickname

Syd Matters

one positive reaction would be something to think about your dramatic distortions should be something to talk about some positive creation would be something to sing aloud taking part of the action kind of hard from the borderline
momentary distraction understood when you're down and out if i'm losing my patience, i'm still up for a morning fight
one positive reaction would be something to talk about ... from my heart kind of hard from the borderline how do you walk with someone who likes to keep his eyes closed we can barely understand a line along the truth how do you call a man who likes to keep his windows shut from the morning to the end of the day
