

Withered

Sylosis

Every dream is now on and the same... inspiration remains just a memory
Such a tragedy to see the day when every blessing seems to go t o waste
So when did we think that the world owes us any more than we de serve?
Sickening to see us lose our way, drifting down a road of endle ss pain
When promise has withered inside
There is no future, no better life for mankind Where's the truth when we've nothing to say? Push it all aside, find a better way
Such a tragedy to see the day when every blessing seems to go t
o waste
When promise has withered inside, there is no future... no bett er life
With nothing we wither inside... the earth will swallow what's left of us
To escape ...you'll find no way Witness the end of days
The sky rips open, to light will blind us all Oceans will rise, erasing all we know
And now the silence is everlasting Rebirth of promise through devastation So we failed and we lost the world... it was nothing more than we deserved
Sickening to see us lose our way
Nothing learned by our own mistakes... now it's too late
When promise has withered inside, there is no future... no bett
er life
