

Welcome back to consciousness
Welcome back to the world of the living
Breathe deep as your thoughts are composed
You've been asleep without dreaming

Search your hands, feel your face
And thoughts without thinking, you're gone with no trace
We're victims of the human race
The blind and the blind in unbearable space

We've been talking without saying anything
So short a time this life of mine
We're around for nothing

We've been talking without saying anything
So short a time this life of mine
We're around for nothing

Who told you our immortal soul
Was a place where our dreams were without control?
Who told you that at the end of time
I'd be judged for wasting mine?

"Okay my friend, it's onto the next life for you."
"I guarantee you won't be mourned."

Who told you our immortal soul
Was a place where our dreams whirl out of control?
Who told you that at the end of time
I'd be damned for wasting mine?

"Revenge is a meal best served cold."

Welcome back to the land of Nod
We're (not) here because of anything touched by God
Don't scream or lose inspiration
We're going to achieve ourselves real salvation

We want the treatment to begin
Stand up and prepare, or just slumber again

Who told you our immortal soul
Was a place where our dreams were without control
Who told you at the end of time
I'd be judged for wasting mine!

Who told you our immortal soul
Was a place where our dreams whirl out of control
Who told you at the end of time
I'd be damned for wasting mine!

Wasting mine
I'd be damned for wasting mine
Wasting my time!
