Tell me why, why
Oh why, why
Oh, why

You don't have to fight
You don't have to cry
And you wished you never fell in love with him
It's not the end of your life
And I know it's hard for you to let someone in
When everything's changed
An unfamiliar face
Dunno where to begin
How do you start over again
When you don't trust your heart (Don't trust your heart)
And it tears you apart
You just have to move on to let him win
If you let me, I can help you forget

Tell me why
Why does it have to be like this
And why would you want to remember the pain
This new love, we can share
Baby, that's all feel let go [? ]
Girl, it doesn't have to be like this
Hoo, it doesn't have to be like this
Ohh

You've tried to move on
But you still don't know how
You put your smile on
Thinking your heart's strong
But then no one's around
You call him on the phone
Hang it up when you hear his voice
It's got me holding back
Tired of being last
I'm left for no other choice
For too long, you've been building up these walls
You can see in my eyes
I got nothing to hide
To nowhere we gonna land
But girl, it's okay to fall
And escape if you keep pressing rewind, ohh

Tell me why
Why does it have to be like this
And why would you want to remember the pain
This new love, we can share
Baby, that's all feel let go [? ]
Girl, it doesn't have to be like this

And when I told you I'd be there for you
Talking about a love you can't count on, too, ooh
I bet you the world when nothing holds you back
Would you finally let go of the pain?

Tell me why

Why does it have to be like this
And why would you want to remember the pain
This new love, we can share
Baby, that's all feel let go [? ]
Girl, it doesn't have to be like this

Why does it have to be like this
And why would you want to remember the pain
This new love, we can share
Baby, that's all feel let go [? ]
Girl, it doesn't have to be like this
