

Frozen

Talisman

You only see what your eyes want to see how can life be what you want it to be you're frozen when your hearts not open you're so concerned with how much you get you waste your time with hate and regret you're broken when your hearts not open mmmm if I could melt your heart mmmm we'd never be apart mmmm give yourself to me you are the key to keep now there's no point in placing the blame and you should know I'd suffer the same if I loose you, my heart will be broken love is a bird, & she needs to fly let all the hurt inside of you die
