

in company, respect's shown mutual into it's own indifference
although when I'm left alone and true feeling's begin to show honesty overflows in my mind when i try not to cry
'cause i'm blind and alive and esteem has no gleam and it can't be seen i'm so alone i still can't understand these feelings that I'm feelin' you're pullin' me back and forth all that you're doin' is confusin' me with this emotional strain it's drivin' me to the edge of insanity you can't blame me for your pain and sufferin' not keepin' on no downlow i'm screamin' the flow in your face just like mace in your eyes like feelin' my bass in your thighs it's time to recognize and realize that your ways are not the only ways to lead your life low concerned about what others think right, 'cause your ego's makin' your core so weak - tunnel vision you move from point A to point B to point C but that's not the point see you lived your life around me i'm crushed inside
each day I get by
i'm crushed inside
each day I get by
with the gleam in my eyes
i'm crushed inside
each day I get by
i'm crushed inside
each day I get by
if you want me, then just try to find me if you ever need to suck me dry when you need me, you won't ever see me i've lost respect now watch you cry touched on me so shortly then just leave me, too you watched me bleed now you smile
you walked through me while you crushed that gleam I had inside my eyes in company, respect's shown mutual into it's own indifference
