

Path Less Taken

Taproot

What if we haven't lost our way
What if we haven't lost our minds
And chose to seize the day
What if we know just how to rise and shine
What if we see our circumstances now start at the end

So here we go again
A past worth savin
At last we're pavin
The path less taken

Why not believe in making change
Why not perceive through open blinds
Why not be free to go and play
Why not adventure out to find our eyes
Why not ignore a broken promise is still just a lie

We breathe in time, we bleed through second chances
Believe inside, that nothing matters if everything just stays t he same
