Sarah jones is acting out a monologue
To teach the world about justice
What women want
"im not an Object!"
She screams with eyes on fire
The crowd goes wild
Shes preaching to the choir

W. is making love to
Shareholders who own a piece of sunshine
We own the world
"oil is our saviour!
Now we can all retire"
A billion reasons why
Hes preaching to the choir

Yeah i wanna find some friends Some common ground Where everything is fine and Everything is easy Yeah im gonna speak my mind And sing out loud Where everyone is kind And everyone who sees me nods

Moses junior on the streets of hollywood Shouting meets a sinner "god save your soul" "repent, repent The devil is a liar" A brick screams out the cost (of)not preaching to the choir