

Glimmer Of Evil

Ten

Daylight thins, heavy cloud threatening
I sense the rain upon the curious wind Twilight dims with the night beckoning
To face the mistress of this darkness within

Scandalized debaucher
She devised my tortured woes one look can tear your heart out Wild and resourceful blow I've got to learn, be a winner, put my faith in the sinner

Blame this neon night this flame
This sea of light that shines in her eyes like the
glimmer of evil
Tonight the ritual and rites that mystified
Entwine in her eyes like the glimmer of evil

Timeless wings carried high on the wind insight intensifies the glorious fling Passion rings through the night till it brings Fragmented sense derived from spurious things

Vandalized, inside
She justifies my highs and lows
Then leaves me broken hearted Strange how remorse soon grows but life's misfortune goes You've got to learn from a riddle, play it safe just a little

Blame this neon night this flame
This sea of light that shines in her eyes like the
glimmer of evil
Tonight the ritual and rites that mystified
Entwine in her eyes like the glimmer of evil
