

Revolution

Ten

(Revolution, revolution)
(Revolution, revolution)
(Revolution, revolution)
(Revolution, revolution)

This fight, constitution and rights
Citizens at war
My sins release me
Rally the troops
In their scores

Blood red, this a history book blight
Like no page before
Belief, unceasing
No turning back
Anymore

Robespierre in a riotous city
Shadow cast in the half-moon light
We dance through fires that he was right
To ignite

This petrified throne
Brittle as fleshless bone
Finds 'Revolution' casting stones
So let the bells toll
'Vive la Carmagnole!'
Blind Revolution, killing,
My Revolution in cruise control

We strike and our hatred incites
'Liberte' by force
With 'Egalite', 'Fraternite'
Common cause

In this plight's 'Reign of Terror', we'll smite
Twenty thousand more
'Les riches' decreasing
'La guillotine' spares the poor

Can't rebuild that which knows no pity
Tear it down, let The Bastille die
The people's enemy resides
In Versailles

This petrified throne
Brittle as fleshless bone
Finds 'Revolution' casting stones
So let the bells toll
'Vive la Carmagnole!'
Blind Revolution, killing
My Revolution in cruise control

(Revolution)
(Revolution)
(Revolution)

In the streets with a sound so chilling
Swept along by the turning tide
Two worlds ignore this overture
Then collide

(Revolution, revolution)
(Revolution, revolution)

This petrified throne
Brittle as fleshless bone
Finds 'Revolution' casting stones
So let the bells toll
'Vive la Carmagnole!'
Blind Revolution, killing
My Revolution in cruise control

Brittle as fleshless bone
Finds 'Revolution' casting stones
So let the bells toll
'Vive la Carmagnole!'
Blind Revolution, killing
My Revolution in cruise control

(Revolution, revolution)
(Revolution, revolution)
(Revolution, revolution)
(Revolution, revolution)
