

The Last Time

Ten

The candle light that burned last night
Into memory
Has faded like the colour of her eyes
I'm aching, though inside I know this was Meant to be
There's nothing I can do to turn back time

I'm leaving tomorrow
I'm grieving today

I'm here, a host to timeless ghosts
Not a remedy
For nothing heals the way I feel inside
I've turned to stone and friends I've known
Are my enemies
We cast aside the remnant of our lives

I'm leaving tomorrow
I'm grieving today

If I had my way
I would make you stay
This might be the last time
The last time I feel love
I know things may change
But until that day
This might be the last time
The last time I feel love

These empty rooms are silent tombs
Where the melody
Has vanished like the echoes of her sighs
At least I know the finite glow
Of remembering
The fire has gone, the embers never die

I'm leaving tomorrow
I'm grieving today

If I had my way
I would make you stay
This might be the last time
The last time I feel love
I know things may change
But until that day
This might be the last time
The last time I feel love

I'm leaving tomorrow
I'm grieving today

If I had my way
I would make you stay
This might be the last time
The last time I feel love
I know things may change
But until that day

This might be the last time
The last time I feel love

If I had my way
I would make you stay
This might be the last time
The last time I feel love
I know things may change
But until that day
This might be the last time
The last time I feel love

Uh, for the last time, yeah
Uh, for the last time, yeah
Uh, for the last time, yeah