Talk to meD Talk to the stranger. Talk to the stranger.

Tired of wasting precious time praying for the rain Rip away my innocence, take away the pain Everyday I fantasize, sad enough but true Dreaming of a better life, outside the tombo

Wizened, the expressionless faces made of clay Colour ground to monochrome, dirty shades of Grey Counting our tomorrows like all our yesterdays Carbon copies thrown around, rewind, erase

Talk to me now□ talk to the stranger
Turn a shrouded face to the light
Burn beyond this place to another world
Talk to me now□ talk to the stranger
Talk to me now□ talk to the stranger
Throw this isolation a line
Don't deny this taste of another, girl
Talk to me now□talk to the stranger

I could give her everything if she has the key She who holds this beating heart, tears it out of me Patience is a lonely sound, now it's wearing thin Losing my control around this fire within \square
