

This Heart Goes On

Ten

I wanna be your hero,
I wanna be your man,
I wanna be the shoulder that you cry upon.
And when you feel afraid
I wanna be the one you hold,
Protect your heart of gold...

I wanna chase the thunderclouds
From your flawless eyes.
I'll erase the nightmares as your dreams unfold.
Everywhere around you
I will build a wall of truth,
And this I promise you...

You will never be alone again,
I'll be all that I can be.
I'll love you for eternity.
Lady, now until the day I die.
My love, this heart goes on...

I wanna taste the sunlight
Caught in your gorgeous smile,
Kiss away the darkness,
Never let you go.
I wanna stand beside you,
Be your shelter from the cold,
You're all I want to know...

I will fight to keep your dreams alive,
Baby, even when I'm gone,
Know you were the only one.
I will stand against the midnight sky,
The best is yet to come...

Every time you fall,
When the nights come down,
When the days are born,
I will hold your hands, bind your emotions,
Believe me... I will...

Years from now, as winter
Crawls from the evening tide,
Baby, you'll remember and you'll feel the glow,
You'll hear the hours of daylight
Whisper softly as they go,
That in your heart you know...

You will never be alone again,
I'll be all that I can be.
I'll love your for eternity.
Lady, now until the day I die,
My love, this heart goes on...
I will fight to keep your dreams alive.
Baby, even when I'm gone,
Know you were the only one.
I Will stand against the midnight sky,
The best is yet to come...

My love, this heart goes on...
