

Building God

Tennis

You're looking for devotion
Made up promises in motion
I can change, I can change, I can change
Never could find a way to explain

We're only building God until we have the one that we want

As I said with hands that quiver
Gesturing over our dinner
"I can change, I can change, I can change

Let me be what you need, it's okay"

We're only building God until we have the one that we want

What my heart is hoping for
What my heart is hoping for
What my heart is hoping for
What my heart is hoping for
What my heart is hoping for
What my heart is hoping for
