

How To Forgive

Tennis

You take your love so freely
Can't you go easy on me
Hard to resist
Hard to give up like a habit
Why do you go losing control

What are you looking for
All this noise when I need silence
Love shouldn't feel like violence
Swallow your pride
Open up wide
Let the whole world in

Empty again punish a friend
Make em all suffer it's so easy
I can't help it
How could I disguise the way that I'm feeling
I've got my reasons
I could give you a million
How could I disguise the way that I'm feeling
I've got my reasons
I could give you a million

My mind has been divided
And I've been questioning myself
Can't keep on hesitating
It's starting to affect my health

Hard to resist
Harder to give up bad habits
Why do I go losing control
What am I looking for
It's so easy I can't help it

(I can't help it)
(I can't help it)
(I can't help it)

Oh I know that I can't control
But it's so hard to let it go
All the worries they keep coming back
And the disappointments from our past

(I can't help it)

How could I disguise the way that I'm feeling

I've got my reasons
I could give you a million
(I can't help it)
I'd move on if I could only remember
All that it takes is just an act of surrender
(I can't help it)
How could I disguise the way that I'm feeling

I've got my reasons
I could give you a million

(I can't help it)
I'd move on if I could only remember
All that it takes is just an act of surrender
(I can't help it)

All that it takes is just an act of surrender
(I can't help it)
How could I disguise the way that I'm feeling
(I can't help it)
