

Never To Part

Tennis

Little virgin, clean and bright
Milk white skin moved in from night
Unblemished are your private parts
Desire can't oppress your light
Queue 'round movements that you make
Will not make men hesitate
Lest your chimes are all revealed
Then your barrow you may wheel

Do not furrow that perfect brow
Chaste lips never to part 'til now

Do not furrow that perfect brow
Chaste lips never to part 'til now

Child, all of this we have done for you
Child, we are only thinking of you

Little virgin, sweetly made
Knows not of the plans we've laid
Got the fragile flickering light
To extinguish as we write
Free from every wicked thing
You receive a diamond ring
Prepubescent wedding day
There upon you lay your head

Do not furrow that perfect brow
Chaste lips never to part 'til now

Chaste lips never to part 'til now
