Storm Warning

In pain there's a lesson In blood there's a slithering form travelling Through the veins, through the body, amending Burnt skin and broken bones Don't deny it: we're all snakes at first, and then we change again

We are the strangers of today Reach out, forever in the dark

In pain there's a moment in blood there's a final story written So the better you make me I'm less man and more machine Engaged in guessing, I'm lost for words I'm never gone Reach out for the serpent

We are the strangers of today Wait out for the serpent Washing the dirt of ages away Reach out for the serpent

Ask yourself: is this worth a reversed evolution? We're acting like a tidal wave Crushing all that oppose us Higher (3x) HIGH! Face the final legendary Terminal new world disorder Pain has hypnotizing voice and it calls your name Higher (3x) HIGH!

So you want steady, you're gonna get steady So you want unsteady, you're gonna get unsteady

Look away Eyes turn black, it's raining now It's angry now, clawing its way out And then i shove the sun onto the light The silence comes My freedom comes from inside

Tension relieved

A shadow light into the sun The sun has come Wait out for the serpent And I shove the sun onto the light My freedom comes from inside

And i save myself from you Rescue me now And you'll find your way back home To find what you look for

Nothing, I said nothing I guess I've always been stuck on the wrong side
