Since The Last Goodbye

The Alan Parsons Project

```
        C#                            Essus2
1. The hours, the minutes seem to fly
                            Esm
   And since the last goodbye
                  C#
   You and I came a long way
        C#                            Essus2
   The nights, too short to fill with sleep
                      Esm
   Or falling in too deep
                      C#
   Seem so far away now

    Bsus2                    Bsus2
R1: Memories, all we share between us
                  F#                  C#
   Everything we were, all that we remain
        C#                    Esm
   But memories somehow came between us
                  C#            F#        C#
   Breaking up two minds that were one and the same

2. The years are moments passing by
   No time to wonder why
   You and I went the wrong way
   The days too short to fill with dreams
   Or question what it means
   Are a part of me now

    Bsus2                    Bsus2
R2: Remember all the leaves were falling
                  F#                  C#
   Walking hand in hand, standing in the rain
        C#                    Esm
   Remember distant voices calling
                  C#            F#        C#
   Whispers in the dark, I can hear them again

    F#                    As7
R3: Since the last goodbye
                  B          F#
   It's all the wrong way round
    F#                    As7
   Since the last goodbye
                  B          F#
   It's all the wrong way round

R1: Memories...

R3: Since the last goodbye...
